The discovery of a Unique Superfood

Tom Harper

For nearly a decade, Tom Harper of Unique Sea Farm pioneered the patent-pending technology to grow and harvest multiple species of wild crafted marine phytoplankton. Phytoplankton are microscopic plants living in the ocean which provide the nutritional foundation for the entire ocean ecosystem. Because of his determination and this unique process, we now have access to these essential nutrients in a natural and bio-available form. This nutrient dense whole food ingredient is known as Alpha-3 CMP™.

Alpha-3 CMP™
Concentrated Marine Phytoplankton

Nutrition from the Sea

Alpha-3 CMP™ is the proprietary ingredient found in UMAC™. It is comprised of extracts from multiple species of marine phytoplankton, wild-crafted by the pristine coastal waters of the Northeast Pacific Ocean. Among the nutrients found in this incredible blend are proteins, amino acids, vitamins, minerals, enzymes, chlorophyll a and c, and other essential nutrients.

This remarkable blend is unrivaled by any other single form of food, plant, algae, grain or herb.

“The future of nutrition is found in the ocean!”

Jacques Cousteau

Daily use

There is over 500 mg of Alpha-3 CMP™ in each serving of UMAC™. That is equivalent to the extract from over 1 million marine phytoplankton cells. Because several of these nutrients are derived from the ocean and not found in daily diets, it is recommended to use UMAC™ on a daily basis to help Restore, Strengthen and Energize your cellular system!

The UMAC™ Difference

Proprietary Blend

UMAC™ contains the proprietary ingredient Alpha-3 CMP™. What makes this different than chlorella, spirulina, blue green or any other algae is that our marine phytoplankton is wild-harvested, contains multiple species and the cell wall is open so the nutrients can be accessed and utilized.

Environmentally friendly

Marine phytoplankton use photosynthesis to harness solar energy. This natural cleansing process aids in the cleaning up of harmful greenhouse gases (carbon dioxide) and provides life giving oxygen. The production life cycle is sustainable and in harmony with keeping our Earth clean and GREEN!

Easy to use

Use 1/2 dropper of our great tasting liquid twice daily or 3 capsules per day to provide your cells the nutrients they need to function at optimal levels.
